children and the elderly. It can be equipped with advanced therapeutic options including bubbles, hydromassage and chromotherapy LED lights. Carefully crafted in Europe using only premium proprietary materials, this luxury bath is durable, easy-to-clean, eco-friendly, hypoallergenic, non-toxic and 100% recyclable. Spacious yet compact, this smart bath can fit even in tiny bathrooms.

Bio

Formed in 2003 to offer a truly unique bathing experience, Aquatica manufactures ergonomically designed luxury bathroom ware, including therapeutic bathtubs with hydromassage and chromotherapy technology. There are a diverse array of styles available from sleek and minimalist forms to imaginative reinterpretations of traditional bathtubs and basins. Aquatica's philosophy of function, form, and fashion includes meticulous ergonomic design, advanced engineering, and premium proprietary materials. The company has its headquarters in Canada, warehouses in the US and a factory in Europe.

Other prizes

Aquatica won the title of "The Best Innovative Material of the Year" at the 2016 UK Kitchen & Bathroom Awards. Aquatica spent years investing in research and development to invent the best material for sanitary ware products. AquateX™ offers hypoallergenic, non-toxic, 100% recyclable, durable, and fire-resistant properties. AquateX™ is also hygienic, watertight and strongly resistant to UV radiation. This outstanding stone composite material is much lighter in weight and costs less than traditional stone.
